

GRASSROOTS INNOVATION

Seminar session

21 November 2017
14:00 - 17:15 + drinks
ISS | Kortenaerkade 12 | The Hague

On 21 November 2017, a half-day session on grassroots innovation will be organized by the International Institute of Social Studies (ISS), PARTOS, the Prince Claus Chair and the Centre for Frugal Innovation in Africa (CFIA). The session will help in fostering collaboration between academia and practitioners.

Do you have experience with grassroots innovation? SHARE YOUR KNOWLEDGE!

Former Prince Claus Chair Saradindu Bhaduri has researched grassroots innovation throughout his term as chairholder and will return to the ISS in order to foster collaboration between academia and practitioners. What can we learn from theory or practice? How can we foster grassroots innovation?

We will zoom in on grassroots innovation in food security and energy, but other interesting examples are more than welcome!

Do you have an interesting case to share?
Please let us know by emailing Kinsuk Mani Sinha.

In short:

- What: seminar session on Grassroots Innovation, combining academia & practice
- When: 21 November 2017, 14:00 - 17:15
- Where: ISS, Kortenaerkade 12, The Hague in the Netherlands

Please send in your case before 31 October.

If you can't attend but you do want to share an interesting experience, we welcome you to do so!

REGISTER HERE!

Unfortunately travel costs cannot be covered.

